2,829 Dead or Missing

Chile Shudders Under New Assaults By Quakes, Tides

SANTIAGO, Chile (AP)—No relief appeared in sight today for southern Chile, wrecked by five days of continuing earthquakes, tidal waves, avalanches and volcanic eruptions.

The official death toll so far was 2,829 dead or missing, 2 million—a fourth of the nation's population—homeless and 300 million dollars property damage. And the count was mounting steadily.

The U.S. Air Force joined in flying relief through the smoke billowing from volcanoes.

With countless communities still cut off and the upheavals of nature continuing, officials could not even predict the final toll. Low-lying clouds and rain hampered aerial rescue operations. Smoke and ash from volcanoes hung over much of the southern part of the mountainous land.

The Interior Ministry listed the known dead at 1,706 and 1,123 missing and presumed dead.

The face of the country itself was altered by the disturbances which began Saturday. Three new earth tremors were reported Wednesday. Tidal waves up to 15 feet high still pounded along 750 miles of the southern coast. Many islands along the coast could not be reached for word of their inhabitants.

In Cautin Province the earth's surface dropped as much as 1,000 feet over a 25-mile stretch. Two new lakes formed in the Andes near Lake Rinihue. Avalanches filled valleys with stone and earth.

The U.S. Air Force summoned planes from bases in New Jersey, Delaware and South Carolina to airlift two fully equipped, 400-bed field hospitals to Santiago. Thirty-four planes were to transport the 426 medical personnel and 350 tons of equipment.

Other Air Force units in the Panama Canal Zone already were rushing to the stricken areas with tents, blankets, field radios and food.

MIGs Forced C47 to Land

Pilot Tells of Good Soviet Treatment

WIESBADEN, Germany (AP)—Six Soviet MIG jets fired machine gun bursts to force a U.S. Air Force transport plane to land in East Germany last Friday. Then the Russians went out of their way to make the nine Americans aboard comfortable.

"The Russians helped us out in any way they could for our comfort," the pilot of the C47, Capt. James Lundy of Findlay, Ohio, told a news conference today.

Russian interrogators only casually mentioned the U2 spy plane, the incident that has plunged U.S.-Soviet relations to a new low, Lundy said. At no time did the Russians try to connect the U2 incident with the C47, he added.

Lundy, grounded by the Air Force after his return, blamed false wind information for straying into East Germany.

"There was no indication that we were off course until the MIGs appeared," Lundy said. "There was no doubt in my mind but that they wanted us to land."

The machine gun fire did not hit the C47.

The other eight Americans reported food and treatment good. Put up at Soviet headquarters, the men played volleyball with the Russians. The one woman passenger was visited by a Soviet officer's wife.

The C47 and its crew of six and three passengers reached Wiesbaden Wednesday night after the Russians allowed the plane to take off from the muddy field where it landed.

Berlin Center Driver Dies In Accident

A 18-year-old Berlin Center youth died at 10:25 a.m. today in Southside Hospital at Youngstown of injuries he suffered in a collision of his car and two trucks at Ellsworth earlier this morning.

The victim was identified by the State Highway Patrolmen at Canfield as Francis Kisan.

They said he was the driver of a car which slammed into the rear of a small truck at the 224 and 45 intersection and then bounced into a tractor-trailer rig. Both trucks were stopped for a traffic light at the time. The accident occurred at 6:15 a.m.

Patrolmen said he suffered a skull fracture and brain and internal injuries.

Driver of the smaller truck was William Hash Jr., 28, of Struthers. The rig was driven by Rollin Horne, 34, of Niles. They were uninjured.

Breaking, Entering Of Restaurant Probed

A break-in at the Barnett's Restaurant on the Damascus Rd. was reported to the Sheriff's Department this morning.

The thieves apparently broke into the restaurant through a window and made an escape through the back door. Early estimates indicate little was taken.

Most of the loss was to cigarette machine which was considerably damaged. The burglary occurred sometime after midnight.

A five-district zoning plan for Perry Township was revealed in its entirety at a public hearing on Wednesday night in the Memorial Building.

The zoning proposal, slated for the November ballot, was explained and exhibited in maps by the Township Trustees, Zoning Commission and the zoning engineer.

A sparse audience of about 20 persons turned out for the hearing and offered little apparent opposition to the zoning plan.

JAMES CUNNINGHAM, chairman of the zoning commission, described the proposal as an instrument for creating a better community in Perry Township, as a protection for property owners, and as an inducement to potential industry.

He stressed that it would require no additional taxation and that it was not proposed to increase the size of the Salem corporate boundaries.

As drawn up by David Rhodes of Youngstown, the plan calls for the creation of five zoning districts: Residential 1, Residential 2, Agricultural, Industrial and Commercial.

Much of the zoning, it was noted, was designed to fit existing land uses and in the case of industrial, fit purposes for which the land already has been optioned.

THE INDUSTRIAL sites have been located along the Pennsylvania Railroad south of the city and northwest of the city. They extend along both sides of the tracks. In the south, the zone does not quite reach to Pidgeon Rd. and in the northwest, not quite to Alternate Rt. 14.

The commercial sites are located on the north side of Alternate Rt. 14 northwest of Salem; both sides of Rt. 14 east of Salem, and on a small section of Ellsworth Ave. just north and south of the city limits. There are other commercial sites located intermittently in the township but none as large as those mentioned.

BRIEF DESCRIPTIONS of the zoning districts as laid out in the zoning resolution are as follows:

Residential 1 — Permitted will be single family dwellings, churches, parish houses, schools, educational buildings, parks and playgrounds, recreation areas, country clubs, swimming pools, golf courses and cemeteries. House trailers will be permitted on private property for only 15 day periods unless they are not used for habitation. If stored on private property, the trailer must be in conformance with building side line and set back line regulations. Buildings constructed must be kept back from the street line at least as far as existing buildings but need not be set back more than 50 feet. At no time will a building be constructed within a distance of 30 feet from the street.

When public water and sewerage facilities are available, lots in this district must have a minimum area of 10,000 square feet and a frontage of 60 feet. Where water and sewers are not available, lots must have a minimum area of 20,000 square feet. There must be side yards on either side of the building which together contain a total width of 24 feet with no less than 10 feet being on one side.

Residential 2 — Almost similar to Residential 1 with the main difference being that two family and multiple family dwellings may be constructed.

AGRICULTURAL — The same buildings as in Residential 1 except that added to these might be airports, signs, strip mines, roadside stands, professional offices and township dumps.

Commercial — Buildings permitted include residences, stores, restaurants, shops, hotels, motels, theaters, garages, gas stations, and other structures ordinarily

President Urges Russia Cooperate For Peace

Ike Pledges Aid In Probe of Summit Fiasco

Calls Leaders of Both Parties to Breakfast Talk

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower today pledged full cooperation with congressional inquiries into the summit conference collapse.

The President talked with the leaders of both parties at a White House breakfast. After the session Senate Democratic Leader Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas quoted Eisenhower as saying the planned investigations at the Capitol have his full approval.

Eisenhower called in the Democratic and Republican chiefs for a briefing on the background of the Paris summit collapse. The congressional leaders provided no immediate detail but presumably the general outline was much the same as the President's radio-television report to the nation.

Echoed By Dirksen

Johnson's report that Eisenhower pledged full cooperation with congressional inquiry committees was echoed by Sen. Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois, the GOP leader.

Dirksen added that the President appreciated the bipartisan backing he has received and made "a plea for unanimity of spirit and feeling."

Some of the other legislators who attended, who asked not to be quoted by name, described the discussion as friendly and general.

Johnson called the breakfast session a very enjoyable meeting. He said those present were invited to ask questions, and did so.

Outlines Inquiry Plan

Sen. J. William Fulbright (D-Ark) chairman of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, outlined for the President the plans for his group's inquiry, which will start Friday. Johnson also referred to investigations planned by other congressional committees.

"We are all in this together, and we are treating mistakes as errors," Johnson said.

"Our big objective is to bring about American solidarity."

Eisenhower invited 10 senators and 13 House members to a breakfast of oatmeal, scrambled eggs, ham and bacon.

In addition to Johnson, Dirksen, and Fulbright, those invited were:

Illinois Loses Lake Michigan Water Suit

CLEVELAND (AP)—A federal judge has ruled against a suit by the State of Illinois to permit three Chicago suburbs to siphon water from Lake Michigan in unlimited amounts.

Special Master Albert B. Maris made his finding Wednesday at the conclusion of two days of hearings here on the long-fought water diversion issue affecting the Great Lakes. The decision represented a partial victory for the defendants, the states of Ohio, Pennsylvania, Wisconsin, New York, Michigan and Minnesota.

Acting on behalf of the communities of Elmhurst, Villa Park and Lombard, Illinois claimed in its suit that these Chicago suburbs have a water shortage and therefore need Lake Michigan water. It sought permission to build a pumping station, water intake, a filtration plant and water mains.

The water involved would be diverted into the Illinois Waterway.

Judge Maris said he found no evidence that a genuine water emergency exists in the suburbs, which lie about 14 miles west of Chicago's loop but outside the Great Lakes watershed.

Bloodmobile to Seek 200 Donors June 9

At least 200 prospective blood donors are needed if Salem's goal of 125 pints is to be realized at the June 9 visit of the Cleveland-Regional Blood Mobile from noon until 6 p.m. in the First Methodist Church.

Salem failed to reach its goal at the last four visits of the unit. Mrs. Robert Butcher, executive director of the local Red Cross Chapter, has revealed.

Mrs. Wilbur Schnurrenberger, recruiting chairman, explained that even though 187 persons had registered for the April collection, only 109 pints were procured as some volunteers were deferred because of colds or other sicknesses and some were unable to keep their appointments.

Anyone in good health between the ages of 18 and 59 can be a donor. Mrs. Schnurrenberger stated. She urges all who can donate at this coming visit of the blood mobile to call the Red Cross office for appointments.

The blood collected in the Red Cross program is given free to patients in need. Mrs. Butcher pointed out, but explained that the hospital charges a fee for administering the plasma and for laboratory services.

For the first pint received by a patient, there is a charge of $2 for blood typing, $2 for determining the RH factor; $2 for crossmatching and $3 for administering the blood.

Plans to Offer New Open Skies Proposal to U.N.

Says U.S. to Continue To Gather Military Data About Russia

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States bombarded the Soviet Union today with a broad-cast appeal from President Eisenhower to forget the failure of the Paris summit conference and join in "business like dealings" for East-West peace.

"The path of reason and common sense is still open if the Soviets will but use it," Eisenhower declared Wednesday night in a radio-television broadcast from the White House.

Beamed To Soviet Union

Translations of the speech, carried throughout the world by the Voice of America, were being beamed to the Soviet Union today in 22 separate broadcasts in seven languages spoken in that area.

Eisenhower asserted his intention to seek improved relations with the Soviet Union "despite our recent disappointment" and said specifically that the United States will continue to take part in conferences at Geneva on disarmament and on prohibition of nuclear weapons tests.

At the same time he made emphatically clear that—in spite of cancellation of U2 spy flights—he intends to continue gathering intelligence information about the Soviet Union's military developments by all practical means.

New Techniques Developed

Obviously referring to spy-in-the-sky satellites, he said "new techniques, other than aircraft, are constantly being developed" to do this.

But Eisenhower stressed that he would much prefer that the United Nations undertake the task of keeping watch on the military efforts of all the great powers.

He reaffirmed his intention to propose a new open skies plan to the U.N., and announced that the United States would supply "part of the aircraft and equipment required." Press Officer James C. Hagerly said this offer would include the high-flying U2 jet planes used by the United States in aerial espionage of the Soviet Union for the past four years.

At this point in his speech Eisenhower dramatically turned away from his prepared text, as it was released in advance, and displayed a photograph of the North Island Naval Station at San Diego, Calif.

Proposal Would Give State Secretary Security Powers

WASHINGTON (AP)—A plan to make the secretary of state the president's chief officer for all national security affairs — including overseas military matters — was offered to the Senate today.

George F. Kennan, former ambassador to the Soviet Union, said this proposal would give the United States "a better coordination of military policy with national policy generally than we have had in recent years."

His testimony was prepared for the subcommittee on national policy machinery headed by Sen. Henry M. Jackson (D-Wash). The hearings are aimed at finding and eliminating the causes of lapses, delays and rigidities in the government's decision-making process.

Kennan avoided reference to any specific cold war decisions, including the handling of the U2 spy plane incidents and other events preceding the collapse of the summit meeting last week.

But Kennan said "organizational deficiencies" and "cumbersomeness of our governmental machinery" have been important factors in "hampering our performance as a world power."

He deplored what he called the "contagion of bigness" in the government and a growing tendency to use advisory committees in seeking policy decisions. The committee system produces "endless compromises" and weak decisions, he said.

If a committee's disagreement is "bucked to the next higher level," Kennan testified, "the result usually is that the same process of compromise is merely repeated there."

Kennan headed the State Department's policy planning staff under the late former secretary, Gen. George C. Marshall. He is now a professor at the Institute for Advanced Studies, Princeton, N.J.

U.N. Expected To Reject Soviet Resolution Today

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — The U.N. Security Council is expected to reject the Soviet resolution condemning U.S. spy flights late this afternoon after a closing exchange between Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko and U.S. Delegate Henry Cabot Lodge.

With a vote of 7-2 or 8-2 against the resolution in prospect, there was speculation the Soviets might withdraw it before a ballot.

Only Poland and the Soviet Union said they would vote for the resolution. Ceylon was planning to abstain, and Tunisia was expected either to abstain or vote against it. The seven other council members had said they would vote "no."

Morning and afternoon council sessions were scheduled.

Gromyko promised a one-hour speech summing up the Kremlin contention that the American U2 plane downed deep in Soviet territory and similar American spy flights constituted aggression and should be condemned. Lodge planned 15-minute reply.

The Soviet foreign minister was expected to cite President Eisenhower's statement in his radio-TV speech Wednesday night that the spy flights had been stopped because "their usefulness was assumed Gromyko would argue that Eisenhower thus had shown the United States no longer respects the international law concept of national sovereignty over the air space above a nation's territory.

In the council debate Wednesday the Ceylonese delegate, Sir Claude Corea, urged Gromyko not to push his resolution to a decision.

Charge Against Countian Reduced

The first degree murder charge against Joseph A. Howell, 45, formerly of Wellsville, was reduced to second degree Tuesday by Gov. Michael DiSalle on the recommendation of the Pardon and Parole Board. He is now eligible for parole.

Howell and John L. Welsh of Wellsville shot George Culp, 61, of Wellsville during a robbery Jan. 2, 1937. The men were tried by three judges who found them guilty June 7, 1939 and sentenced them to prison for life.

TWO DRIVERS FINED

LISBON — Two motorists were fined a total of $15 and costs on Wednesday by County Judge James L. MacDonald after being cited by the State Highway Patrol.

Charles E. Brown, 22, of Salineville, RD 1, was fined $5 for operating a motor vehicle with a defective muffler, and Jack Kolat, 33, of Youngstown, $10 for driving a vehicle on a temporary operator's license unaccompanied by a licensed driver.

RULES ACCIDENTAL DEATH

ELYRIA, Ohio (AP) — Lorain County Coroner Paul J. Kopsch has ruled: accidental death Wednesday of Roy L. Easter, 39, of North Ridgeville. Easter was killed when his auto rammed a utility pole on Ohio 57, five miles south of here. Shortly before the crash, Easter's wife, Della, had called the sheriff's office, saying her husband had been drinking and was threatening to wreck his car.

14 CARS DERAILED

FREMONT, Ohio (AP)—The fire department in nearby Clyde was called out Wednesday night to extinguish flames created by burning coal that spilled from 14 derailed freight cars. Officials said a broken bolster arm caused the 14 cars, part of a 100-car Nickel Plate train, to jump the tracks near Clyde.

No one was injured, but a privately-owned garage and a car were damaged by one of the railroad cars.

School Bill Sponsors Face Fight In House

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sponsors of a 975 million dollar school construction bill face a battle in the House today from both friends and foes of federal aid to public schools.

The determined opponents, mainly Republicans and Southern Democrats, are expected to join forces in an attempt to throttle the bill.

The ardent supporters could achieve the same result by building it up until it is practically certain to draw a presidential veto.

Rep. Frank Thompson Jr. (D-N.J.), author of the bill, told the House frankly in the opening of debate Wednesday that it had been carefully tailored to attract the maximum number of votes and the least risk of a veto.

The threat of a veto was raised anew, however, by Arthur S. Flemming, Secretary of Health, Education and Welfare. Following a White House conference Flemming released a letter to Rep. Carroll D. Kearns (R-Pa.) hinting strongly at a veto unless the bill is altered.

He said the administration insisted on making states match all federal funds and allocating a proportionately greater share of the money to poorer states. The Thompson bill would authorize outright grants the first year and require matching funds for the final two years of the three-year program. Allocations to states are based on the number of school age children, regardless of the needs of individual states. Voting on both proposals was expected today.

Pittsburgh Man Writes Poetry at Murder Trial

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Charles Ross, charged with beating a man to death, writes poetry at his murder trial.

His latest lines were titled "Not Guilty." The poem concludes with these words to the jury: "I'm certain you'll agree 'I've had enough upsets of late 'Without your trying to cremate 'A guy that's 'not guilty'."

ANSWERS YOUR PROBLEMS

Dear Ann Landers: I used to read your column for jokes but now I find myself turning to you for help. I'm sure some of your readers will bust their sides laughing at my problem but it's not funny.

It all started when I used to needle my wife about how easy she had it with nothing to do but watching TV, reading, making a couple of meals, fixing the bed and playing with our two kids.

I must have overdone it because when I was laid off last month my wife made me a proposition—she'd go back to work at her old job if I'd take over at home. It seemed like a gag and I took her up on it for laughs.

Now I'm at my wit's end. The kids are driving me insane. I've given up trying to do the laundry—everything goes out. Even so there's not enough time to get groceries in the house, cook and clean. I don't know how she did it.

I haven't read a book or seen TV in three weeks. After the kids are in bed I fall asleep in the chair.

My wife says she feels like she's on a vacation. I'm supposed to go back to work next week but she says she likes it the way it is. So, Ann Landers, what do I do now?—BEAT.

P.S.: How do you get bubble gum out of kids' hair?

Dear Beat: Get on your knees, Bub, and tell your ever-lovin' you've had it and you'll never open your mouth again.

Tell her if you can't find a suitable medal you'll dip your self in bonze and make a public presentation. In short, eat a large portion of humble pie and go back to work.

P.S.: If cleaning fluid doesn't work, try the scissors.

Bewildered Youth

Dear Ann: I'm a 13-year-old boy who has REAL trouble. There are four generations living under this roof—myself, my mother and father, my grandmother and my great-grandmother.

All the women want to cook in the kitchen and be the boss. My grandmother is 69 and treats my mother as if she were 4. Great-Granny is 87 and her memory isn't very good. She thinks my mother is my Aunt Lulu who died 10 years ago.

My mother is modern but HER mother is always yelling that I should wear long underwear and take sulphur and molasses and junk like that. She's also very tight about electricity. She thinks I shouldn't read at night because it uses too much juice.

There's a lot of friction in our house. Please tell me what to do.—DINTY.

Dear Dinty: Your mother is your boss. Do as she says but be respectful to the others.

Obvious Alternative

Dear Ann: I was married briefly to a 24-carat creep. His family is prominent in this city and the name is well known. I dislike being identified with him or his people. This is almost impossible because I am Mrs.—until I remarry, if I ever do.

I find myself saying repeatedly, "I'm not married to Harvey any longer." This is clumsy and it makes me uncomfortable. What do you suggest I do to smooth over the embarrassment?—STUCK WITH A RITZ NAME.

Dear Stuck: The alternative is so obvious I'm surprised you didn't hit on it. Go to court and get your maiden name back.

Dear Ann Landers: My brother lost his wife four years ago. We were thrilled when he told us he had met a woman he wants to marry. She lives in New York and he met her in Florida several months ago.

The woman arrived in town a few days ago and I gave a party so she could meet the family. Ann, she is VERY nice, but, she smokes cigars.

My mother and aunt almost fainted when she lit up. A cousin asked her when she picked up the cigar habit and she nonchalantly said, "In Rome, two years ago."

This is a rather small and conservative community. I'm afraid she's going to be the topic of plenty of conversations. What shall we do?—THE FAMILY.

Dear Family: Nothing. I suspect that any woman who smokes cigars enjoys the "conversation" at least as much as she enjoys the cigars.

Unwanted Guest

Dear Ann: We are a group of girls, all 14. A certain girl at school is very loud and always wants to be the center of attention. She runs after boys and is awfully unlady like. The trouble is, this loud girl has a nice mother who is friendly with my mother.

Well, our group is having a house party with boys. We decided not to invite this loud girl.

The day after the invitations were sent my mother told me the loud girl's mother had phoned. Janet cried all day because she was not invited.

My mother told Janet's mother she'd talk to me and fix it up. So I had to say, "Let her come."

The other girls are mad at me. Don't you think 14-year-olds should be free to select their own friends? Please say so.—MAD.

Dear Mad: I agree and it is too bad the mothers got into the act.

Now that Janet has been invited, have a talk with her before the party. Tell her WHY she was left out. If she learns how her behavior looks to other people, she may tone down her personality.

Allergic to Pets

Dear Ann: I have a son who is allergic to cats and dogs. His eyes swell up and itch when these animals are around.

My brother and his wife live in my mother's home. They have a small dog which they treat like a child. He has the run of the house, sits at the table during mealtime and sleeps at the foot of their bed.

We like to go visit Mother every other Sunday and have done so for a long while but since my brother moved in with the dog, we've been having a problem.

They refuse to keep the dog in the basement. I feel insulted that they consider their dog on an equal basis with our boy. We've discussed this openly and they won't give an inch. What do you suggest? I hope you won't tell us to stop visiting Mother. Why should she suffer because of their foolishness?—CLINTON.

Dear Clinton: It's your mother's home. They moved in with her, didn't they? She should insist the dog be put in the basement or taken for a walk when your son is in the house.

If she refuses, tell your mother she is welcome to visit you any time but you can't bring your son into her home.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems.

Send them to her in care of The Salem News, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

The Dangers of Lawn Mowing

No rational person would stick his hand into the blades of a moving fan, yet accidents with power mowers each summer seem to bear out the fact that home owners underestimate the equipment from a hazard viewpoint.

Doctors here already have treated several persons for foot injuries inflicted by the blades which, in some instances rotate as fast as 100 miles an hour. Near Ashubula several weeks ago a two-year-old girl was killed when the blade knifed through a coat hanger which lay hidden in the grass and imbedded a piece of the metal in the child's chest.

Statistics are not available on miscellaneous accidents but mowers have severed toes and fingers from careless operators from coast to coast.

According to W. E. Stuckey, agricultural extension specialist of Ohio State University, practically all of these accidents are the result of human error. If the mower is kept in good mechanical condition and the operator uses it wisely, after carefully reading the manual, chances of a mishap are very slight.

The Columbiana County Health and Safety Council suggests that lawns be inspected for stones, wire and other debris before mowing . . . that children be kept away from the mowers . . . that no mower ever be left running and unattended . . . and always stop the motor and even pull the spark plug wire before starting to unclog. This is good advice.

Power mowers have made lawn cutting a more pleasant task, but remember, that gadget packs a wallop.

Education's Best Foot Forward

Starting this month and continuing into early June, high schools in this community will congratulate their 1960 graduating classes, give them some good advice and call it a year.

This is the great annual occasion when education's best foot is forward. There is a temporary suspension of the destructive criticism that sometimes seems so preponderant that education looks like a national project in failure.

Former President Hoover said recently when he was being interviewed for a television audience that the American educational system is the greatest in the world. More young men and women were going to college in the United States, he pointed out, than in all the rest of the world.

He said what no one disputes, that some public school preparation in science and engineering is crying for improvement, but he implied what no one disputes either, that American education has no peer in the results attained.

In no other place has education been opened to all. In no other aspect of government for the people has a greater effort been made to equalize the benefits of opportunity. Most invidious comparisons that are intended to show U.S. education at a disadvantage are made with educational systems that cater only to the intellectual elite. American education caters to everybody, in the belief that everybody has something to gain.

Thoughts like these are the common currency of impression during commencement season, as high schools proudly present their graduating classes. In even the smallest graduating classes there is the same range of educational impact that can be found in the largest classes—from the genius level, or near-genius level, to the students who barely squeaked through. Yet, everybody had the same chance for self-improvement.

That is the thought, though unspoken, when graduates are being congratulated. They had their chance. They are being congratulated for what they did with it, whether it was much, little, or medium.

An Oscar For Nikita Khrushchev

News coverage of the Russian explosion at Paris and the subsequent collapse of the summit conference depended heavily on interpretive accounts, instead of straight reporting.

There was not much straight news reporting to be done, other than to keep a running account of what Premier Khrushchev was doing in his role of diplomatic saboteur. This was a conference without a program, without a discussion and without a summary of results, or even a summary of lack of results. It was, instead, a diplomatic melodrama in which the "villain" hogged the stage and stole the show, and the newsmen who had gone to Paris to write about the conference must have wished that dramatic critics had been sent, instead.

They did make it possible, however, to understand how the chief actor in the "Collapse of the Summit" read his lines and many of their deeply knowledgeable critiques of the play promise to do credit to their skill when reread in years to come. Their readers are grateful to them.

KHRUSHCHEV will not be among those dominated by the Academy of Motion Picture Arts and Sciences for an Oscar award in 1960, but no professional actor will top his performance.

He was sent to Paris by the political impresarios of the Kremlin to renounce himself as the jolly harbinger of co-existence. It could not have been a tasteful role for him, because there is sound evidence he really meant it when he sought the summit meeting and talked about the desirability of getting along together.

Observers in Paris noted that he was accompanied everywhere by the unsmiling Rodion Malinovsky, defense minister of the Soviet Union. Malinovsky had a role in "The Collapse of the Summit," too. He was there to make sure Khrushchev didn't forget his lines, and it may be, too, that he was there to be noticed—a symbol of Russian militarism.

THE SOVIET PREMIER could not have forgotten any lines. On the contrary, he must have been laying it on thick to impress Malinovsky.

He did impress all the observers; they felt he had overdone it, to the point of making martyrs of his American victims.

But aside from this streak of ham, Khrushchev put on a great act. He won't win an Oscar in the United States for the role of "villain," but if he doesn't win an Ivan in Russia it will be an unprintable crime.

Forecast: Heavy Traffic

The Memorial Day weekend, the first of the summer's three long holiday periods, commences Saturday.

The forecast (rain or shine) is for heavy vehicular traffic on the highways. Safe drivers will be prudent enough to plan good time-schedules and remain alert and cautious wherever they may be going.

Don't let a traffic accident mar your holiday.

Once Over

Cyrus Eaton, American business tycoon, often exhibiting friendliness toward Khrushchev in the past, shook hands with him in Paris after his abusive speech and told him the story of George Washington and cherry tree. Probably Nikita understood the incident this way:

Dad: George, did you chop down that cherry tree?

George: That is an insolent unscrupulous question only a perfidious aggressor could ask. Dad: I repeat, did you cut down that tree? George: There is an old proverb which says he who wants a fruitless session always brings up lost cherry trees.

Dad: Never mind that. The tree is gone and I must inquire.

George: I insist upon being treated as an equal. It is well known you have been making secret observations with relation to me and my hatchet. This is reckless behavior increasing tensions and invites grave consequences.

Dad: Will you give a simple answer to a simple question?

George (furiously): I am calling this sinister meeting off. There will be no further discussion.

Dad: You mean the whole cherry tree crisis is torpedoed? Can't we take it up again some day?

George: Not until you apologize for your curiosity, promise never to repeat such treacherous conduct and punish everybody who cooperated with you in cherry-tree spying.

ACTORS STRIKE is threatened in Gotham. This can mean closed theaters. What theater-goer is going to stand for a situation where he can't get a seat from which a view of stage is possible? Will any playgoer endure a crisis in which he can't get a paper cup half full of watered orange juice for a quarter?

There are 200,000 home swimming pools in U.S. Some candidate is sure to promise a swimming pool in every yard and two cocktail bars on every diving board?

Only Two Steps Away

Air Trespass Dispute

By DAVID BARNETT

The United States, in handling the U2 issue, skipped the basic argument used four years ago by the then secretary of state in countering Soviet protests against American "trespass" of Communist air space.

On Feb. 7, 1956, John Foster Dulles told a news conference the United States felt it had a right to send scientific balloons on high-altitude flights even if they went over Soviet territory.

Dulles asserted this right although he conceded "there is no clear international law on the subject."

In now admitting that the U.S. had made many high-altitude flights over Soviet air space, the administration argued only that the missions were made necessary because of the Iron Curtain.

No attempt was made to argue that the air at 80,000 to 90,000 feet was "free" in the same sense that the world's seas are free beyond several miles from land areas.

The balloon protests resulted from a series of meteorological studies made in 1956 with balloons from the United States, Turkey, West Germany and Great Britain.

Many of the balloons at high altitudes crossed over Soviet-held territory and some came down in Russia and in the satellite lands. The Communists protested that the United States had trespassed on their sovereign territory.

THE RED POSITION was in conformity with the air code of the U.S.S.R., adopted Aug. 7, 1935, which stated that, "to the U.S.S.R. belongs the complete and exclusive sovereignty in the air space above the U.S.S.R."

Both countries have since shifted back and forth on the issue. In March, 1956, Loftus Becker, then the State Department's legal adviser, told a congressional committee the United States claimed all space above its territory and would defend it.

In September, 1958, a Soviet legal expert published a study arguing that interplanetary space was free and thus any country could launch rockets or satellites that did not come back to earth, without consulting other earth powers.

This position was tested in practice when earth satellites were launched by both sides and no claims of trespass lodged.

Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev went even further when, during his visit to the United States, he said the Soviets would not make any claim for possession of the moon as a result of its successful moon shot.

A it has worked out in practice, the earth's countries are holding fast to claims to air space at least as far out as the limit of the atmosphere. That means about 25 miles or some 130,000 feet. The U2, although a high-flying aircraft, stays within the atmosphere.

THE SOVIETS, however, have a history of changing such concepts when it suits their purposes and one such occasion may develop when and if the United States puts into orbit a military reconnaissance satellite.

The Kremlin could make an attempt to knock down the satellite on the grounds that, in orbiting over Russian soil, the device was violating Soviet air space.

President Eisenhower's "open skies" proposal, offered in 1955, made an attempt to gain a foothold for the concept of freedom of the world's skies, at least for reconnaissance purposes.

The Soviet Union two years ago vetoed a United States resolution in the United Nations Security Council that would have endorsed aerial reconnaissance of the Arctic area.

A similar fate is expected for the newest U.S. offspring of the "open skies" proposal, the President's idea, announced this week, for a United Nations aerial reconnaissance force.

In the years of discussions of the "open skies" proposal, the Soviets have only once given any hope that it would relinquish even a small part of what the Kremlin considers its claim to air space.

At one point, the Communists offered to trade air space (for inspection flights only) over eastern Siberia and the Kamchatka Peninsula for similar rights over Alaska and the United States west of the Mississippi River.

U.N. Anticlimax

By DAVID LAWRENCE

Soviets Not Seeking New Crises for Time Being

The "tension" seems to be easing off. Maybe the press of the world unwittingly inflated the significance of what now appears to have been artificially contrived anger at the summit by Soviet Premier Khrushchev. Certainly, as this correspondent watched the session of the Security Council of the United Nations in New York, the whole proceeding had a perfunctory air, with no feeling of crisis. It seemed to be the routine way the United Nations handles debates largely designed for propaganda purposes.

An impression of perfunctoryness was particularly conveyed by Andrei Gromyko, the Soviet foreign minister, who sat at the main table and, in an expressionless way, tread for an hour in monotonous a document criticizing the United States.

When he finished, the reading of the official translations took another hour.

Most of the delegates, and the members of the press, left the hall while the official translations were being read.

This was because, as Mr. Gromyko spoke, everyone had at his seat earphones carrying simultaneously on each channel a translation in English and French, called "unofficial," but accurate enough to tell the audience what was going on.

SOMEHOW, however, it was the synthetic nature of the Gromyko speech which made the meeting something of an anticlimax after the tirades of abuse which Mr. Khrushchev had heaped on the President of the United States last week in Paris.

The pious exhortations of Mr. Gromyko seemed the essence of hypocrisy, especially his new concern for international law and his amazement over the fact that an unarmed plane with a single engine and a single occupant flew over the Soviet Union and took pictures—all of which, in his words, constituted an "act of aggression."

Indeed, at one time he struggled to develop some kind of analogy between the Japanese attack on Pearl Harbor in 1941 and the recent American plane flight.

He finally conceded that, while it wasn't exactly parallel, the same theory of "perfidy" could be applied.

Former Sen. Henry Cabot Lodge of Massachusetts, who is doing a remarkable able job as the ambassador of the United States at the United Nations, picked the Gromyko argument to pieces in a few well-chosen sentences.

He said America could bring up lots of spy cases when the spying was done at much less than 65,000 feet in the air—namely, on the ground.

He gave the names of the Soviet spies who have been arrested in recent years and whose activities we had not magnified into "acts of aggression."

THIS RAISES a question, incidentally, of whether the word

"spy" is being properly used in connection with the Powers incident.

Usually a spy is one who is disguised to conceal his identity. But the Powers plane was marked and readily identified as from the United States.

The plane contained only cameras which were capable of photographing any part of the Soviet Union. But so do the space satellites, flown by both Russia and the United States, which are able to take pictures far above the ground.

As Gen. De Gaulle of France pointed out to Mr. Khrushchev at the Paris meeting, a Soviet satellite, which can take photographs, has been crossing France 18 times a day, and this has not been called "espionage" or "spying" or been the subject of protest.

Is it really a violation of any nation's sovereignty to fly 12 miles or more up in the air and take pictures?

Mr. Gromyko seems to think it is when American planes do it but nobody has threatened to interfere with the Russian space ships when they fly over American territory. All this is doubtless something for the United Nations to discuss sometime in its academic way.

Basically, the U.N. is used for propaganda. It can't really legislate on world problems. It is not a world government.

It is a forum at which governments blow off steam. This may be useful because the moral force of public opinion sometimes can be influential in preventing military conflicts.

THE U.N. is, therefore, a convenient mechanism for cooling the tempers of potential belligerents.

But even before the U.N. Security Council met, Mr. Khrushchev indicated in his East Berlin speech that, when he had gotten sufficient mileage out of the Powers plane episode, he would turn on the "peaceful co-existence" tune again.

Release of the American C-47 transport plane, which was forced down when it accidentally flew over East Germany, is a sign that the Soviets aren't seeking more crises for the time being anyway.

The Soviet Premier probably knew he was headed for checkmate at the Paris summit meeting because the West wouldn't give in on the Berlin issue, so he decided on a strategy of stalling.

Mr. Khrushchev now talks of another summit conference "in six or eight months." But he might be willing to delay even longer.

For the Berlin issue merely diverts attention from other disputes and enables the Soviet Union to get virtual recognition of the so-called "status quo" in Eastern Europe.

This means Western acquiescence in the conquest by the Soviet Union of Poland, Bulgaria, Romania, Czechoslovakia, Hungary, Estonia, Latvia, Lithuania and East Germany.

It has been quite an extensive aggression, and the more issues Mr. Khrushchev can raise in other fields, perhaps the less attention will be paid by the West to the slavery and bondage in which millions of people are held in the satellite states in Eastern Europe.

Colorful Factories

By SAM DAWSON

NEW YORK (AP) — Color is spreading from the products you buy to the machines that make them and to the factories where they are produced.

Merchants have long known that color can affect sales volume — both the hue of the product itself and its packaging and display.

Next business learned that white-collar workers were depressed or pepped up by the color of their offices. And the right tints were sought to get the maximum of work.

From that business went on to the equipment that office workers use. The gadgets now may be blue, green or red instead of the once standard black or dark gray. Also the paper and forms they fill out increasingly take on pastel shades.

Color stylists have popped up across the land to counsel businessmen on how factories and other business buildings should look, outside and in.

As just one example, out of many, Howard Ketchum, Inc. recently styled a factory this way: At one end the interior wall was finished in medium light green with contrasting areas of deep red. The machinery was red, too. Moving along the interior the colors varied from the green to neutral beige, and finally, soft yellow and blue.

Sometimes color is used for very utilitarian purposes. In chemical or pharmaceutical plants pipes and valves carrying steam will all be painted one color, water pipes another, and individual colors will be selected for oil, compressed air, distilled water or gas.

Endicott Johnson, shoe makers, developed yellow rubber boots for the Argonne laboratories to be worn by workers in radiation-contaminated areas. The idea was that if the worker wears the boots outside of the contaminated area, he has given himself away at once to anyone else around.

Red is used in many factories to mark danger points. But it has customer appeal, too. The Bell Telephone Co. is turning out red phone booths for sidewalk installation in New York City, believing the color will attract passers-by to make impulse calls to friends or office.

The outside of business structures are taking on many hues. Porcelainized stainless steel curtain walls can be seen in checkerboard patterns in black and orange, in colored stripes, mosaics, polka dots and fabric effects. Green glass or bronze or gold-toned buildings are to be found.

Republic Steel's Truscon division used color for community relations. It used stainless steel curtain walls finished in dark blue porcelain for its research center in a Cleveland, Ohio, suburb that might have been dismayed if an old-fashioned, business building had popped up there.

Color stylists say that once factory corners were deliberately painted dark to hide any accumulating dirt. Now they are being painted in bright colors for the opposite reason—to check up on sweepers' diligence.

2 Lawyers Resign From Stark Probe

CANTON, Ohio (AP)—The resignations of two Canton lawyers from the special vice-gambling investigation squad here are only temporary. Atty. Gen. Mark McElroy indicated Wednesday night.

Both Walter H. Allman and Charles K. Correll, the attorneys who resigned, reaffirmed that they wanted the resignations to be permanent.

However, McElroy said that he had been "led to believe" that the resignations were due only to the "press of their personal law practices . . . We trust that they soon may rejoin the investigation, perhaps at the conclusion of the trials which start next week."

Asked how long the investigation would continue, McElroy said, "I don't know at this time. That is up to the governor."

Gov. Michael V. DiSalle ordered the attorney general to determine the need for the investigation last August, about two months after a local clean-up by off-duty police had begun in Massillon.

President

from an altitude of more than 70,000 feet — about 13 miles — he said that some of the lines shown in the picture were only six inches wide.

The photograph provides an example of "what could be accomplished through United Nations aerial surveillance," the President said. He did not mention the fact but it also provided an example of the kind of detailed photographic information which the United States evidently collected with the U2 photographic missions over Soviet territory.

Eisenhower went into some detail on the May 1 U2 incident which Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev cited as a reason for breaking up the summit meeting.

He said Khrushchev knew of similar flights when the Soviet Premier visited this country last year and "he did not then see any reason to refuse to confer with American representatives."

Replying to Democratic and other critics who have said such flights should not have been made just before the summit meeting, Eisenhower said:

Should Not Be Halted
"As to the timing, the question was really whether to halt the program, and thus forego the gathering of important information that was essential and that was likely to be unavailable at a later date. The decision was that the program should not be halted."

He did not specify what information was being sought at the time.

The President again defended aerial espionage as vital to the security of the United States and its allies because it provided information on Soviet military developments. But he said that U2 missions were only "one of many methods we have used to keep ourselves and the Free World abreast of major Soviet military developments."

Eisenhower said Khrushchev's action at Paris last week perhaps had "turned the clock back in some measure." But all that happened in Paris must not be written "in red ink," he said, for some of the things should be "written in black."

On the positive side he said that Khrushchev "did not go beyond invective" in denouncing the United States, in breaking up the summit meeting and in canceling Eisenhower's trip to the Soviet Union next month. What he seemed to be suggesting was that Khrushchev had not actually changed any basic Soviet policy.

found in business districts. Significant here is the requirement of 200 square feet of parking space for every 300 square feet of area in the building structure over 2,000 feet on the ground floor and for every 500 square feet over 2,000 square feet on additional floors.

Industrial — All forms of business and industry are permitted here except those exceptionally obnoxious or those requiring an extreme amount of space. Certain types of industry, such as junk yards, must be concealed from public view by a fence of not less than 6 feet in height.

ALL OF THE stipulations in the proposed resolution are subject to appeal before the zoning board which is to be created by the ordinance and whose members will be appointed by the Township Trustees.

Mr. Cunningham pointed out that all persons subject to the zoning law will be permitted appeals if they should disagree with the requirements in the law.

He noted that last night's hearing on the proposal was the only one the zoning commission would hold on the measure. However, he indicated that another hearing will be held in the future by the Township Trustees.

The Doctor Says

By HAROLD THOMAS HYMAN, M.D.

Use Caution in Treating Burns

One of the most frequent of home accidents is the burn.

The toddler who reaches up and topples the boiling contents of a soup pot over outstretched arms and body... the singed eyebrows and hair and the scalded face from a fat fire... body burns from flames, steam and chemicals... body burns from clothing ignited by pocket matches or a log or grass fire... scalp burns from hair driers and countless other penalties for carelessness and thoughtlessness.

Almost as many different ways of treating burns exist as there are ways of getting burned: Smear them with lard or butter. Powder them with bicarbonate of soda. Paint them with gentian violet. Protect them under a film produced by a solution or ointment of tannic or picric acid.

ELIMINATE the element of pain by liberal use of a local anesthetic. Prevent infection by addition of an antiseptic, disinfectant or antibiotic.

Bandage them snugly to avert the dangers of contamination, drying or further injury.

Or combine any two or three as not to offend advocates of any special method.

One by one, most of the "strong-arm" methods of treatment have had to be abandoned. Many of the drugs produced reactions that were almost as discomforting as the original burn.

INFECTIONS flourished under films, scabs and snug bandages. Local applications of germ killers murdered few bugs and often sensitized the host which then reacted unfavorably to later use of the product when the need was greater.

And the scars, resulting from applications of tannic acid preparations and splints, sometimes produced serious permanent disabilities, especially of the hands.

HERE ARE SOME suggestions for guidance in the domestic management of burns:

1. If the burn involves several fingers, the hand or hands, scalp, face, chest, back, abdomen, genital area, more than one extremity or more than half of a single extremity, arrange for immediate transportation to your doctor's office or hospital.

2. If the burned area is pearly white, or charred and dry, and is insensitive to pinprick (third degree), hurry to your doctor or his hospital even if the area involved is less extensive than indicated in the previous paragraph.

3. Except for application of a tight protective dressing of a towel soaked in cool water, do not treat or handle the burned area before or during the trip to the doctor's office or hospital.

4. Until professional care can be obtained, urge the victim to drink large quantities of salted water (one level teaspoonful to a pint) and sweetened beverages (cola drink, orange juice, honey).

5. If the burn is not extensive and does not involve any of the vital areas indicated previously, bathe it in cool water or treat it with soaks of cool water.

DO NOT apply any drug or chemical of any kind. Between baths or soaks, expose it to warm or cool air.

Do not apply banages or dressings, except for protection during sleep.

To prevent sticking, anoint the burned area with any nonmedicated grease (lard, butter, oleo, cold cream, mineral oil, vaseline).

6. Unless pain is excessive, urge active movement of the burned part to prevent the formation of constricting scars.

7. And finally, do not continue home treatment if there are signs of remote difficulty. Absorption of toxins from the burned area may produce shock, stomach ulcers and disturbances of the glands of internal secretion.

Inside Labor By Victor Riesel

Victor Riesel

Somewhere deep in the U.N.N. report vault, not too far from Andrei Gromyko's chair and in-sults, is Document E-CN.Y-394 of the Commission on Narcotic Drugs. It proves that the Communist international apparatus is using millions of dollars worth of dope in its espionage against the U.S.

This document, "Illicit Traffic—Note by the U.S. Delegation," actually records the number of spies and the amount of heroin they carried in some areas.

Nor is this report, prepared by the ever crusading U.S. Narcotics Bureau Chief Harry Anslinger, ancient history of the vintage of Aseff the spy. It is dated April 29, 1960.

WHILE THE SOVIETS are pushing the case of the U2, the United States report to the Commission on Narcotic Drugs states bluntly that at least 700 Soviet - Chinese spies infiltrated the U.S.-protected Republic of Korea.

Nor is our Narcotics Bureau being cloak-and-daggerish. It lists the names of the North Korean and Chinese espionage leaders—who had enough manpower to ring our key military bases there.

At least 280 of these Communist spies carried heroin on them to finance and bribe their way. Since this report has never been published elsewhere, here, word for word, is its exact charge:

"... starting with 1955 a total of 700 Communist agents dispatched from North Korea have been arrested.

"An astonishing fact is disclosed that 40 per cent of these 700 agents had narcotics in their possession for the purpose of Fifth Column operations fund. The total quantity they carried is about 70 kilograms, valued at around $700,000—the black market price in this country."

The report lists the names of agents and the amount of crippling narcotics seized on each. The man described as the "top spy leader was Myung San Yang. He carried 12 kilos of morphine. Compare this with the few gold coins carried by our pilot, Francis Powers.

Yet our U.N. delegation simply put the report in the record and it went the way of all U.N. documents—right into limbo.

OUR AGENTS, working with their colleagues on the Commission on Narcotic Drugs, headquartered in Geneva, traced the origin of the hundreds of millions of dollars of such politicalized opium. It comes from Szechwan and Yunnan provinces in the Chinese Socialist motherland.

The narcotics are shipped by the ton, not the half-pound. Much of it is in bricks stamped with the symbol "999."

Much of it flows into our big cities via San Francisco—and names and units are listed in Anslinger's startling report.

But more startling is the fact that vast chunks of the corroding "junk" come in from Europe and the NEar East via Cuba. This has been distributed in "kilogram quantities in major cities across the country (the U.S.)," according to the report.

Narcotics for the big New York-Chicago - Montreal - Detroit crime combine have been and are being stockpiled in Cuba.

There is no doubt that Cuba's pro-Communist government operational people could crack this depot in a moment. But they are not touching it.

The U.S. Bureau of Narcotics has had to give up its efforts to get any cooperation out of the Castro officials in this fight on drugs.

THIS REPORT names the U.S. combine which has been working through Cuba—it's the Vito Genovese mob. Our government charges that Genovese is "the No. 1 criminal in the U.S."

Genovese's "group of narcotic traffickers received heroin in large blocs from Europe via Cuba," the report discloses.

This means that the big crime cartel, which sprang out of Al Capone's operations, were deep in narcotics and, therefore, the trade is linked to the combine which has infiltrated certain unions.

The Kentucky
FRIED CHICKEN
No. 1s ED 7-9916

Furthermore, the vast amount of cash brought in by these narcotics sales has been used to purchase ostensibly legitimate businesses.

Thus the Communist "999" narcotics not only has been used to infiltrate our military system with spies but our economic system with the underworld.

Somebody should read this report of the civilized world to the spokesman for the other world—Andrei Gromyko.

HOLLYWOOD'S BEST, WORST REVEALED IN FW POLL

Reams of copy are written each day about Hollywood and its stars, but what do the stars think about one another?

In a revealing poll conducted for Family Weekly, Hollywood correspondent Peer Oppenheimer gives the answers. For example, Cary Grant was named the best-dressed and most sincere star. Shelley Winters was selected as the worst-dressed actress, and Gregory Peck was termed the star most lacking in humor. For more of the movie world's frank opinions, don't miss the surprising feature, "Hollywood Yearbook." You'll find it in Family Weekly, distributed with your Saturday edition of THE SALEM NEWS.

The same issue presents the charming story of "Miss Somebody from Texas," the second in a Family Weekly series of "unknown" cover girls. Also included is the informative article, "Five Fun Vacations on a Budget," describing out-of-the-ordinary trips for families with more imagination than money.

Regular Family Weekly features include some time-honored recipes for last-minute quicky meals, games and riddles for the children in the Junior Treasure Chest, and the jokes and cartoons of Quips and Quotes.

Perry Fans 8 As Tribe Nips Senators 1-0 In 11 Innings

Indians Game Ahead of Sox

Hawkins Scheduled To Pitch Saturday

CLEVELAND (AP)—The Cleveland Indians head west today on an eight-game road trip only a few percentage points behind the American League's first-place Baltimore.

Jim Perry's 11-inning, eight-hit shutout of the Washington Senators here Wednesday night put the Indians a full game ahead of the Chicago White Sox and three games ahead of the New York Yankees.

The game concluded the Tribe's home stand with a 7-4 mark.

Perry, who had a blister trimmed in the seventh inning, seemed to improve as the game progressed.

"My breaking stuff got better around the sixth inning," Perry said. "I tried to pace myself and wasn't too tired. I might have been able to go a couple more innings."

Tito Francona's single in the 11th, with two out and two on base, scored the only run of the 1-0 game.

The hit sent Jim Piersall home from third and gave Perry his third victory against two defeats. The 23-year-old right-hander gave up nothing but singles, struck out eight and walked only two.

Bill Fischer, now 0-1, was starting for the Senators for the first time this season. He blanked the Indians on four singles until the 11th.

Piersall started the winning rally with a one-out single to left, stretching his hit streak to 12 games. Then Ken Aspromonte singled.

Piersall reached third and Aspromonte second as Harvey Kuenn, with a half swing, rolled to second baseman Billy Gardner for the second out.

That left first base open, but Vic Power, following Francona in the batting order, had 3-for-4, so Fischer pitched to Francona. Tito swung and the ball sailed on a line to center field, where Lennie Green made a futile dive.

Perry was in trouble in the 10th inning. Jose Valdivielso singled with one out, and Fischer popped a safe bunt. Billy Gardner singled to right fielder Kuenn, who made a perfect throw to the plate to retire Valdivielso trying to score.

Manager Joe Gordon said Gary Bell, Wynn Hawkins and Jim Grant will work Friday, Saturday and Sunday in Detroit. There is no game today for Cleveland.

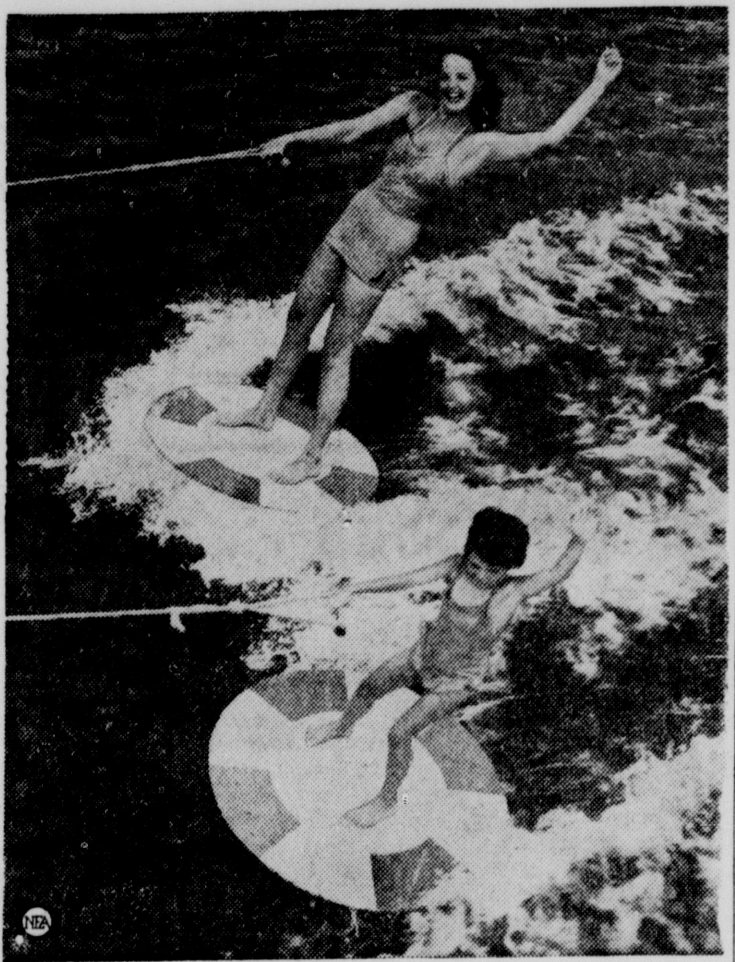

HURLS NO-HIT GAME

LAKEHURST, Fla. (AP)—Nineteen-year-old Ronnie Schamp of St. Marys, Ohio, pitched a no-hit, no-run game Wednesday as Lake land squashed St. Petersburg 9-0 in a Class D Florida State League game. The right-hander struck out 13 Saints and walked only two.

U.S. Outlook In Olympics Distance Races Is Gloomy

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—America's outlook in the distance races at the 1960 Olympics is a gloomy one.

America has won four of the last six 400-meter races, but prospects in Rome are not too brilliant. Three West Indians took the top medals in the 1959 Pan-American Games. All three are attending college in the United States, but they'll represent their home lands in the Olympics.

Top man of this small group of greats is George Kerr, the 400 and 800-meter specialist from U. of Illinois and Jamaica. He won the 400-meter, anchored the 1,600-meter relay, and finished second to Tom Murphy of New York in the 800-meter in the Pan-Am Games.

Our representatives will be named in the July 1-2 tryouts at Palo Alto, Calif., but they must match the standards of 47.3 for the 400, and 1:49.2 for the 800.

Dave Mills of Purdue, Jack Yeraman of California, Eddie Southern of Austin, Tex., and Delos Dodds of Kansas were our best a year ago in the 400-meter. Glenn Davis of Columbus, who holds the quarter-mile record of 45.7, is a threat in both the 400-meter run and hurdles.

In the 800-meter, only Murphy was listed in the top 10 internationally last year. In April Ernie Cunliff of Stanford ran a brilliant 1:47.3, and later qualified in the mile. Bob Tague of Kansas caught Kerr from 10 yards back in the Drake Relays, and a week later eight half-milers in California were under 1:51.

Top USA milers include Jim Grelle of Portland, Ore.; Ed Moran of James City, Pa.; Archie San Romani Jr., of Wichita, Kan.; Jim Bowers of Illinois, and Don Bowden. Others yet to reach their peak may work into the picture.

The steeplechase—3,000 meters of it—is not one of our specialties. Horace Ashenfelter of Penn State upset the Russian world in 1952 with his great victory, but this is Russia's event since it has five men in the top 10 ranking.

Phil Coleman of Champaign, Ill., and Deacon Jones of Coffeyville, Kan., have been our best for several years.

By no stretch of the imagination can the 5,000 and 10,000-meter races, or the marathon, be considered our domain.

The Olympic standard in the 10,000 meter is lower than our national record. Only Bill Dellinger of Oxnard, Calif., and Max Truex of Warsaw, Ind., have bettered the 5,000-meter standard.

Others rated among our top distance men are Lew Stieglitz of Hartford, Conn.; Bob Soth of Long Beach, Calif.; Miles Eisenman of Tahachapi, Calif.; Bud Edelen of Minneapolis, Jim Beatty of North Carolina, and Paul Whiteley of Emporia, Kan.

We haven't scored an Olympic marathon point in recent years. John Kelley of Groton, Conn., Alex Breckenridge of the Marine Corps and Gordon McKenzie of New York will be our representatives.

Orioles Jolt White Sox 3-2

Tigers Trip Yanks, Red Sox Jar A's

By The Associated Press
Pitching is getting to be a young man's game in the American League. And if you need a conquerer take a squint at the Baltimore Orioles and Cleveland Indians, running 1-2 in the pennant chase.

Chuck Estrada, 22, a righthanded rookie, allowed only five hits for a 3-2 victory over 40-year-old Early Wynn at Chicago Wednesday that gave the Orioles a sweep of the two-game series. It was Steve Barber, a 21-year-old south paw rookie, who plunked the White Sox out of first place with a seven-hitter Tuesday.

And Wednesday night, Jim Perry, an old hand at 24, pitched an 11-inning shutout for Cleveland as the Indians defeated Washington 1-0 and stayed within a half-game of Baltimore.

Detroit tied New York for fourth place, three games behind, by beating the Yankees 9-3. And Boston finally junked its losing slump at 10 games, defeating Kansas City 5-3.

In the National League, San Francisco gained a one-game edge with a 5-1 victory at Philadelphia while the Los Angeles Dodgers were handing Pittsburgh a third straight loss, 5-1. St. Louis beat Milwaukee 5-3 and Cincinnati whipped Chicago's Cubs 7-4.

Estrada (3-1) walked four but struck out five as the Birds won their fourth in a row.

Sherm Lollar drove in both White Sox runs, tying it 1-all in the fourth with a double and deadlocking it at 2-all in the seventh with a home run. Wynn (2-2) gave up 10 hits and struck out eight.

Tito Francona's two-out single broke up Perry's shut-out duel with right-hander Bill Fischer (0-1), who had a four-hitter until the 11th. Perry (3-2) allowed eight hits, walked two and struck out eight.

Frank Bolling drove in four runs for the Tigers, who won their fourth in a row as Bolling, Charlie Maxwell and Red Wilson all went home.

Don Buddin's second double and a squeeze bunt by reliever Ted Bousfield gave the Red Sox the deciding run in the eighth at Kansas City. Bill Monbouquette (4-3) was the winner while Don Larsen (0-4) lost his 10th in a row since last June.

Basketball Schedule Announced by Miami U.

OXFORD, Ohio (AP)—A two-game trip to the South for contests with Kentucky and Miami of Florida will be included on the 1960-61 basketball schedule announced by Ohio's Miami University.

Athletic Director John Bricks said the Redskins would play Kentucky at Lexington Jan. 2 and Miami of Florida at Miami Beach on Jan. 4.

Miami will play 24 games during the season. There will be the usual contests with Mid-American Conference foes plus home-and-home tilts with Dayton and Xavier and single games with Heidelberg, Ashland, Cincinnati, DePaul, Pittsburgh and Eastern Kentucky.

PURCHASES SPEEDWAY

DAYTON, Ohio (AP)—The Winchester, Ind., Speedway has been purchased by Pete Wales, veteran Dayton race car builder and mechanic.

Situated on a 40-acre site, the half-mile, high-banked track has a grandstand seating capacity of about 6,000.

Funk at one time owned the Dayton Speedway, and tracks at Fort Wayne, Ind., Hamilton, Ohio, and Rockville, Ill.

Giants Take Over NL Lead As McCormick Trips Phillies

By The Associated Press
There was nothing wrong with the San Francisco Giants that a two-game series with the Philadelphia Phillies couldn't cure.

They went into Philadelphia in second place. Sam Jones, their right-handed ace won the opener with a four-hit shutout that put the Giants back in the National League lead. Wednesday night the Giants made it a sweep behind Mike McCormick, winning 5-1 in a game cut to eight innings by rain and picking up a one-game lead over second place Pittsburgh. Los Angeles swept a three-game series against the second place Pirates with a 5-1 decision on three home runs—one a 550-foot wallop by rookie Frank Howard.

The St. Louis Cardinals defeated Milwaukee 5-3 in the ninth on George Crowe's record-setting pinch-hit home run. Cincinnati defeated the Chicago Cubs and Don Cardwell 7-4 in a game held to 7 2-3 innings by rain.

In the American League, Baltimore retained a half-game lead with a 3-2 victory over Chicago's White Sox. Second place Cleveland defeated Washington 1-0 in 11 innings as Jim Perry outdueled Bill Fischer. Detroit tied New York for fourth place, beating the Yankees 9-3. And Boston ended its losing streak at 10 with a 5-3 victory at Kansas City.

The Giants beat Robin Roberts (1-5) with Willie Kirkland's two-run homer in the second inning. McCormick walked two and struck out two.

The Dodgers won their fourth in a row, scoring their first four runs on homers by Howard, John Roseboro and pinch-hitter Don Demeter. Howard's second of the year sailed over the left field fence at Forbes Field. Right-hander Don Drysdale, winless for a month, squared his record at 4-4 with a five-hitter.

Jim Umbricht (0-2) was the loser as a replacement for Bob Friend, who failed to start because of a throat infection.

Crowe's first home run of the season, a two-run shot off losing reliever Don McMahon (1-4), was his 11th as a pinch-hitter, breaking a tie with Smokey Burgess (Pittsburgh) and Gus Zernial (Detroit) for the major league career record. Warren Spahn went eight innings for the Braves and allowed only three hits, but two were home runs by Ken Boyer.

Larry Jackson (4-5) won his third in a row, giving up nine hits but shutting out Milwaukee after Joe Adcock's two-run double in the third.

The Reds socked Cardwell (2-3) for six hits and five runs, chasing the right-hander when they scored four in the third inning. Elie Chacon's single brought home the clincher. Southpaw Jim O'Toole (4-4) won it.

INTRA-SQUAD GAME
The Mount Union College baseball team played an intra-squad game at Centennial Park last night.

A scheduled game between the Mount team and the Grove City College nine from Pennsylvania was called due to a previous commitment on the part of the Pennsylvania team.

$50,000 Golf Tournament Opens Today

INDIANAPOLIS (AP)—The pro golfers themselves will be off to the races in an expected par-busting rodeo in the $50,000 Festival Open tournament starting at the Speedway Golf Club today.

Cracked Jack Burke, one of the better known pros in a field of 150: "A 270 (14 under par) will win this thing, four rounds like 68-67-68-67."

Probably the only thing that will prevent the potent field from ripping par completely to shreds is a tall stand of thick grass on the fairways and greens of the 35-36-71 par layout which dips and ducks 6,605 yards in and out of the Speedway race track.

Meet sponsors promised to snip the growth before the opening round of the 72-hole medal play meet which carries a top prize of $9,000.

On the first tour of the course, more than a score of pros have shot sub-70 rounds, including a 66 by Mike Souchak in Tuesday's pre-am celebrity round.

Wednesday, National Open champion Billy Casper and Joe Campbell, former Purdue athletic star who probably knows this course better than any entry, each shot 67 practice rounds. Doug Ford and Stan Leonard each fired 68's.

The Festival Open was inaugurated this year as a shideshow to the Memorial Day 500-mile auto race Monday. The Speedway course is probably the only layout in the world cut in half by a race track.

NOW LOOK WHAT CORVAIR'S GONE AND DONE!

The same Corvair that tallied a thumping 27.03 miles per gallon* in the Mobilgas Economy Run ... went right on to climb Pikes Peak earlier in the spring than any car has ever tried!

We wanted to show you what the fabulous traction of Corvair's rear-engine design and the sure-footedness of four-wheel independent suspension really mean. So the identical Economy Run car went right on to 14,110-foot Pikes Peak—and right up to the top of that savage mountain, on April 15, still deep in winter's snow and ice. No other car—even specially equipped—had ever been able to conquer that nightmare alpine road so early in the spring. But Corvair (with United States Auto Club officials aboard to certify that not one nut or bolt was changed) purred right to the summit without chains or even snow tires! That just underscores the fact that Corvair is totally unique. But you'll find that out the first five minutes you're at the wheel!

Eagles Rally In 6th To Beat Purity 6-4

Mark's Landing rolled to a 12-2 victory over the H. K. Porter Co. last night at Kelley Field to lead Class A Softball League scoring.

In other games, the Italian-American Club downed the First Salem Corporation, 3-2 in a squeaker and the Eagles waited until the game was almost over to dump Purity Dairy, 6-4.

Logue's twobit pitching was the standout performance in the Mark's Landing attack. However he got off to a shaky start in the first inning walking two while two others got on the bag via errors.

Three of the first four to reach the bags scored. The other run also reached base by the free walk route, getting home on hits by Morris and Wallen in the second inning.

Five walks and two errors by the Porters in the third inning gives some idea of what happened to the team's defense. Mark's scored four runs in that inning on one hit. In the 4th inning, Mark's scored four more on five hits. King had two doubles in the winning cause, with teammates Adams and Kneynant also getting two hits in the 12 hit attack.

Paster had two hits in three trips to top the hitting for the Italian Club as it piled up eight hits to clip First Salem. Going into the last half of the 7th inning, the score was tied two-all when Menichelli reached first on an error, took second on a walk to Chaffin and then went home to win the game on a single by Hertel.

Winkler for the losers had two for three, and Perkins two for four. Scoring six runs in the 6th frame, the Eagles didn't act like they intended to get in the game with Purity for the first five innings. In the sixth, they scored on five hits, three walks and two errors.

Walters with two hits in two trips and Bowersock with two hits in three trips led the winners. Moulton had two for four for the losers.

TAKE THAT! — Ingemar Johansson has been a little more aggressive in workouts at the Grossinger, N.Y., Country Club than he was a year ago. Of course, the big bag can't hit back, but then neither will Floyd Patterson at the Polo Grounds, June 20, if you listen to the relaxed heavy-weight champion.

Ohio Kids Run Faster, Jump Farther Than Grandpops Did

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Ohio's high school kids are running faster and jumping and throwing greater distances than did their granddads of 50 years ago.

The first of the Buckeye State meets was held at Denison University's Beaver Field, May 25, 1960, and some of the winning performances then appear puny compared with what the boys will do this weekend.

For instance: In 1908 the pole vault was won with 8 feet 0 inches, and the state record is 13-9½; the discus throw of 91 feet 2 inches was just a bit over half the 1959 mark of 174-8½; and the opening high jump of 5-2½ doesn't compare with the 6-4 which won last year.

Better equipment, better tracks, better coaching and better training have made much of the difference. Faded photographs of the olden, golden days show the youngsters wearing knee-length trunks instead of the abbreviated shorts of today; the oldsters also featured tennis-type shoes, not the featherweight needle - spiked ground-eaters of today.

KSU, Notre Dame To Play Twin Bill

The Kent State University baseball team, without the services of leading hitter Harry Kalbaugh, will finish the season with a double-header at Notre Dame University.

Kalbaugh, sophomore center fielder from Cuyahoga Falls, received three broken vertebrae in a home-plate accident in a game last week and will see no more action. He is listed in satisfactory condition in Akron City hospital, where he is in traction.

RACES AT SHARON SUNDAY?

HARTFORD — Promoter Jim Novak will try for the fourth week in a row to run off his weekly eight-event stock car racing program Sunday night at Sharon Speedway. Rains have washed out the last three programs.

The leading stock car drivers of the area are expected to be on hand for the program, which will include the Helmet Dash, four heat races, the Australian Pursuit, a 20-lap feature for the straight stocks and a 25-lap feature for the modified bombs.

Moore Scores TKO Over Besmanoff

INDIANAPOLIS (AP) — Old Archie Moore (43) still has the punch, but the paunch must go, before he defends his light heavyweight title against Erich Schopner of Germany next July 18.

Moore, carrying a billowy 206½ pounds, Wednesday night scored a tenth-round technical knockout over Willi Besmanoff of Milwaukee in a nationally televised heavyweight bout in the Indiana State Fairgrounds Coliseum.

The 175-pound king from San Diego, Calif., was dropped to one knee by a right-hand blast from Besmanoff in the second round.

Moore went to work, dropped Besmanoff for a mandatory eight-count in the fifth and then really wrecked the plucky German with a right which caught Besmanoff flush on the back and decked him near the end of the ninth.

Besmanoff's nose was bleeding profusely over everybody in the ring in the 10th round, and Referee Frank Gilmer, chairman of the Illinois State Athletic Commission, called it quits at 1:32.

Change Is Made In Hot Stove Schedule

Class H games scheduled to be played at Reilly School diamond tonight and Friday will be played at Buckeye School instead, Bob Whitehill, secretary of the Salem Junior Baseball Program, reports.

The Reilly School diamond has not yet been put in playing condition, he said.

The Class H games will be played at 7 p.m. The games originally scheduled at Buckeye for 6 p.m. have been moved up to 5:30, Whitehill said.

Cubs Defeated 7-4 by Reds

Contest Halted In 8th by Rain

CINCINNATI (AP) — Wonder what Don Cardwell was thinking about Wednesday night after he had been knocked out of the box and his Chicago Cubs had gone into the fourth inning without getting a man to base?

Only 10 days ago Cardwell pitched a no-hitter. For 3 2/3 innings Wednesday night the Cubs hadn't come close to getting a hit off the Cincinnati Reds' Jim O'Toole.

Of course, the Cubs finally broke O'Toole's spell and even had him knocked out of the box with two out in the eighth when rain hit and left the Reds a 7-4 victory.

But for a time, it appeared O'Toole was on his way to one of his top pitching performances of the season. He wound up allowing eight hits but he fanned five and didn't walk a man.

The Cubs had two runs in and a man on base when the rain hit. Cal McLish had just been called in to relieve O'Toole.

Pre-game ceremonies marked the 25th anniversary of the first night game in the major leagues and but for that they probably would have gotten in a full game. The contest started about 40 minutes later than usual.

Paul Derringer, who pitched the Reds to victory in the first night game here on May 24, 1937, threw out the first ball Wednesday night and there also was fireworks just as at that opening night title.

In the game itself, an error by Ernie Banks helped Cincinnati get an unearned run in the first inning and the Reds shelled Cardwell out in the third.

Singles by Vada Pinson, Gus Bell and Frank Robinson brought one run. Ed Bailey hit a sacrifice fly for a second tally and Willie Jones doubled in another. That brought Dick Drott to Cardwell's rescue and Elio Chacon singled home a fourth run.

Drott and Mark Freeman were generous in the fifth. Freeman walked in two runs after Drott had yielded singled to Bailey and Chacon and a walk to O'Toole.

The first hit off O'Toole was a single by Ed Bouchee but the first damaging blow was a fifth inning home run by Frank Thomas. Banks' double, Thomas' single and a force out gave the Cubs another run in the seventh before they started teeing off on O'Toole in the eighth.

In that final frame they scored twice on doubles by Richie Ashburn and Jerry Kindall and a single by Bouchee.

In Proportion

By JIMMY DEMARET
The accompanying illustration shows the middle iron stance pictured from behind the player, and looking directly down the intended line of flight.

Notice the relationship between this and the driving stance pictured from a like angle in a previous lesson. The similarity strikingly points out the fact that the essentials of a fundamentally - sound stance vary only in proportion. Nothing is added or subtracted regardless of the club.

The only difference you'll note is that the left foot is moved slightly back from a point on the intended line so that the stance is opened farther.

Without careful aiming, the finest swing will pump shot after shot to the left or right of the target area, a dismal thought at the very least. So first you work into the stance to accomplish this aiming process.

Once you have shifted and ad-

justed yourself and the clubface on target, you assume the position bet suited to make it easy for you to begin and accomplish a sound swing.

Klapak to Make 11th Bid In Canfield Memorial Day Race

Veteran Mike Klapak of Warren will be entered in the annual Canfield Memorial Day new car race for the 11th straight year next Monday afternoon.

But in the 10-year history of the 200-mile grind, which is staged over Canfield's half-mile oval, Klapak has never won the classic.

He will bring in a 1959 Ford in hopes of breaking the jinx. Klapak has won the Langhorne 150-mile two years in a row and was national sportsman stock car racing champion for five successive years, yet he has never won the big "Canfield 200."

Klapak came closest last year when he finished second behind Don White of Keokuk, Iowa. He has been third two times.

SOME 50 NEW CAR drivers are expected to be on hand for the big Memorial Day event.

It will be the biggest star-studded lineup ever seen in this area. White will be back, this time in a 1960 Ford. He is a two-time ICMA champion, before moving over to the MARC Assn.

The victor two years ago, Les Snow of Bloomington, will be back with a 1960 Pontiac and three-time MARC champion Iggy Katona of Lambertville, Mich., will be in the lineup with a 1960 Ford.

ALSO BEHIND the wheel of a 1960 Ford will be defending MARC

Kitchens Tourney Aspirant Signs

Platinum-haired Barbara Gail Romack of Sacramento, California, today became the first to sign for the $16,000 Youngstown Kitchens Invitational Golf Tournament at Warrens Trumbull Country Club, July 6, 7, 8, 9 and 10.

Tournament Chairman, Ken Jones said that Miss Romack is expected to compete against a field of some 30 professional and 30 amateur golfing women.

The event, first major tournament to be held at the Trumbull course, is co-sponsored by the Ladies Professional Golf Association.

LEBANON, Ohio (AP)—Sweet Singer, starting in the outside position in the second tier, worked his way around the entire field and won the featured Class C-2 pace in a photo finish at Lebanon Raceway Wednesday night.

CINCINNATI, Ohio (AP)—Firemen made a run to a rooming house Wednesday.

A woman living there said another tenant had entered the bathroom several hours before and never came out.

Serve Bedford Scallopettes

Scallops are now in abundant supply, the Department of Agriculture reports. Their sweetly bland flavor and delicate texture make them one of our most popular shellfish.

They are tempting either deep fried, broiled or used in stuffings for pork or poultry.

We went to the New Bedford area of Massachusetts, called the scallop center of the world, for some first-hand cooking hints. There, Mrs. Roland L. Morris, a native of nearby Mattapoisett, reported:

"My acquaintance with scallops dates back to my childhood when my brother used to go after them in Little Bay and had a 'shuckin' shack' on the edge of the salt marsh. I used to peddle scallops around the neighborhood, and as far as I know there were only two ways in which the folks used to cook scallops—pan-fried and deep fat fried. Then sea scallops came into the market. I was determined to find a way to cook them besides in stew or fried, and I discovered this delectable dish, which I call 'Scallopettes'."

Scallopettes (Makes 6 servings)
Two pounds sea scallops, fresh or frozen; 1 medium onion, quartered; 10 salted crackers, 2 medium potatoes, cooked; 2 eggs, 1/2 cup flour, divided, 1/2 teaspoon pepper, 1/4 cup cornmeal.

Defrost scallops, if frozen. Cover scallops with cold, salted water; bring to boil; simmer 3 minutes; drain.

Put scallops through food chopper, using coarse knife and alternating with onion, crackers and potatoes. Combine chopped food with eggs, 1/4 cup flour and pepper; mix well.

Shape mixture into small croquettes; combine remaining flour and cornmeal; dust croquettes with this mixture; fry in shallow fat (1 1/2 inches deep) heated to 375 degrees F., about 2 minutes; turn to brown other side. Drain on absorbent paper. Serve with tartar sauce.

REGAL RELISH

An excellent meat relish freeze for outdoor dining is simple to make. Blend canned apple sauce and whipped cream, half and half. Season to taste with prepared horseradish. Pour into refrigerator tray and freeze. To serve cut into squares. Delicious with any meat, hot or cold.

There are about 7,300 tons of iron and steel in the Eiffel Tower.

Chicken Is Low-Calorie Treat

Times change in many ways. What used to be called a spring chicken (the reference, of course, is strictly culinary) is now known as a broiler-fryer.

They are 9-week-old birds weighing from 1 1/2 to 3 1/2 pounds and have lower fat content than most meat, a point of interest to hungry calorie-counters.

Here's a delicious chicken recipe with a sauce interestingly seasoned. An average serving contains only about 300 calories.

Captain's Chicken

(Yield: 4 servings)

One broiler-fryer chicken, cut in serving pieces; 1 teaspoon monosodium glutamate, 1 teaspoon salt, 1/4 teaspoon pepper, 1 1/2 teaspoons curry powder, 1 teaspoon cornstarch, 1 can (1 pound) tomatoes, 1 garlic clove, minced; 1-3 cup finely chopped onion, 1-3 cup finely chopped green pepper, 3 tablespoons currants, optional.

Sprinkle chicken with monosodium glutamate, salt and pepper. Place chicken pieces skin side up in preheated broiler; broil until browned, about 10 minutes.

While chicken is broiling, combine remaining ingredients except currants in saucepan; bring to a boil. Place chicken pieces in baking dish; pour sauce over chicken. Cover with foil.

Bake in a moderate oven (350 degrees F.) 45 minutes. Uncover; add currants and bake 15 minutes longer.

Slim-Chick Salad

One container (8 ounces) yogurt; 1 teaspoon curry powder, 1/2 teaspoon salt, 1 cup diced celery, 2 cups diced cooked chicken.

Blend together yogurt, curry powder and salt. Add to celery and chicken. Toss lightly. Serve on salad greens. (280 calories per serving.)

Cocktail Cake

Ingredients: 1 can (1 pound 14 ounces) fruit cocktail, 1 cup flour, 1 teaspoon baking soda, 1/4 teaspoon salt, 1 cup sugar, 1 egg, 1-3 cup light brown sugar (lightly packed), 1/2 cup coarsely chopped pecans.

Method: Drain fruit cocktail thoroughly; there will be about 2 cups fruit; reserve syrup for some other use.

In a mixing bowl sift together the flour, baking soda, salt and sugar. Beat egg until thick and ivory-colored; add with well-drained fruit cocktail to sifted dry ingredients; stir just enough to moisten.

Turn into heat-resistant glass baking pan (about 12 by 8 by 2 inches); spread evenly. Mix together the brown sugar and nuts; sprinkle over top of batter.

Bake in very slow (275 degrees) oven 1 hour and 20 minutes. Cut in squares and serve warm with whipped cream. Makes 9 healthy servings.

Stuffed Hamburgs

Ingredients: 2 eggs, 1 tablespoon butter, 1 tablespoon lightly drained pickle relish, salt, pepper, 1 pound ground chuck beef, extra butter.

Method: Hard-cook eggs; shell and while hot cut in half lengthwise.

At once remove yolks and mash with 1 tablespoon butter; mix in pickle relish and a dash of salt and pepper. Spoon yolk stuffing back into egg-white cavities; pack down.

Make 8 flat patties of the beef; place a stuffed egg half in center of 4 of the patties; top with remaining 4 patties; press down lightly and seal edges thoroughly by working together with fingers. Brown both sides of patties rapidly in hot butter in skillet, spreading with salt and pepper. Reduce heat to cook meat to desired doneness. Serve at once. Makes 4 servings.

GARLIC BREAD

Cut some crispy French rolls (which are almost small loaves) down the middle lengthwise, a little more than half through the roll. Cut rolls crosswise at one-inch intervals. Spread garlic butter mixture on all cut sides of rolls. Bake golden brown.

Orange-Glazed Pork Loaf Is Pungent, Tasty

Planning a meal for guests or something new for the family menu? You'll want to try this meat loaf with a "built-in" garnish and a colorful note!

Soda Cake-Bread

Ingredients: 2 cups sifted flour, 1/4 teaspoon baking soda, 1/4 teaspoon salt, 1 tablespoon sugar, 1-3 cup butter or margarine, 1/4 cup currants and 1/4 cup light-colored seedless raisins (both rinsed in hot water and drained well), 3 teaspoons caraway seeds, 1/4 cup buttermilk.

Method: Into a medium-sized mixing bowl sift together the flour, baking soda, salt and sugar.

With pastry blender cut in the butter until particles are about the size of small peas. Stir in currants, raisins and caraway seeds.

Add buttermilk; mix in with a fork just until dry ingredients are moistened. (Mixture will look like baking-powder biscuit dough).

Turn into buttered round layer-cake pan (8 by 1 1/4 or 1 1/2 inches); pat out so dough is smooth and even.

Bake in moderate (375 degrees) oven 45 minutes or until cake tester inserted in center comes out clean and top is lightly browned. Turn out on wire rack; turn right side up; cool. Serve in wedges or slices with or without butter.

Sweet Lemon Bars

Ingredients: 3/4 cup sifted flour, 1-3 cup butter or margarine, 2 eggs, 1/2 teaspoon vanilla, 1 cup light brown sugar (firmly packed), 1/2 teaspoon double-acting baking powder, 1 can (3 1/2 ounces) flaked coconut, 1/2 cup chopped nuts, 1 teaspoon grated lemon rind, 1 tablespoon plus 1 teaspoon lemon juice, 2-3 cup confectioners' sugar.

Method: Rub flour and butter together with fingers until combined.

Lightly press in bottom of baking pan (11 by 7 by 1 1/2 inches). Bake in moderate (350 degrees) oven 15 minutes.

Meanwhile beat eggs and vanilla until slightly thickened; beat in brown sugar and baking powder; stir in coconut and nuts.

Spread on first mixture as you take it from the oven; return to oven and bake 20 minutes longer—topping will be a light tan.

Stir together the lemon rind, lemon juice and confectioners' sugar until smooth; spread over top of hot baked layers. Cool; cut into 24 bars in pan; remove with spatula to wire rack; allow to stand uncovered to dry a bit. Store loosely covered.

A blend of smoked ham and fresh pork flavors together with the subtle touch of orange and lemon juice makes this loaf something elegant.

The brown sugar-mustard-flour combination is placed into the loaf pan, topped with the meat loaf mixture and baked to form the glaze which highlights the meat and the orange slice garnish.

Orange-Glazed Pork Loaf

1 pound ground smoked ham, 1 pound ground pork, 1/2 cup orange juice, 1 tablespoon lemon juice, 1 1/2 cups soft bread crumbs, 1/4 cup chopped onion, 2 tablespoons chopped parsley, 2 eggs, slightly beaten, 1/4 cup brown sugar, 1/2 teaspoon dry mustard, 1 teaspoon flour, 5 very thin unpeeled orange slices.

Combine orange and lemon juice and pour over bread crumbs. Add ham, pork, onion, parsley and eggs. Mix thoroughly.

Mix together brown sugar, mustard and flour. Sprinkle sugar-flour mixture evenly in bottom of a greased 5x9-inch loaf pan.

Overlap orange slices on the sugar mixture. Pack in meat mixture. Bake in a moderate oven (350 degrees F.) for 1 1/4 hours or until done, 8 servings.

Freeze Those Fish to Show Off to Friends

If the man in your life is addicted to periodic fishing expeditions, you can teach him how to freeze his catch.

To the average nimrod, fishing holds two thrills. The first is actually taking the fish. The second, exhibiting a fine catch to his friends.

If he has one of the new frostless refrigerator-freezer combinations, friend fisherman really is in luck. He can package his "big ones" in transparent freezer paper, then store them in the freezer section. Frost-proof freezing makes it possible for the packages of fish to remain free of frost and easy to see.

Thus, when friends come by, he can eliminate all boastful gestures by simply making a tip to the freezer and showing the actual catch.

Here are a few suggestions about freezing fish by Miss Mary Huck, Frigidaire's director of home economics:

Keep the day's catch alive or on ice, then clean, prepare and freeze the fish just as soon as possible. This will preserve appearance and freshness.

Fish can be wrapped individually or in meal-size packages. Separate individual pieces with double thickness of freezer paper. Fish fillets, or small fish can be packed in freezer containers. Add water to fill in the crevices, then seal.

An extra overwrap will protect the freezer paper and prevent the fish odor from permeating the freezer.

Store "fatty" fish such as pink and chum salmon, lake chub, golgander, herring, mackerel, smelt, ocean perch, lake trout, and tuna for only about three months.

"Lean" type fish can be kept in frozen storage for up to six months. These include haddock, cod, oysters, halibut, lake herring, Coho salmon, king salmon, red salmon, yellow pike, yellow perch, crab and lobster.

If your fisherman husband wants to show his prize catch to friends from time to time, then the fish can be frozen, glazed and packaged in transparent paper separately. To glaze, freeze the fish until solid. Dip frozen fish quickly into ice-cold water. A thin coating of ice will freeze immediately on the surface. Repeat several times then wrap in freezer paper. Be sure labels and dates are on all packages.

The nude body of Mrs. Anthony, a Negro, was found along a country road northwest of the city. Officials testified she died of a beating and cold exhaustion.

The four men, white, are William Olney, 21, James Greer, 22, Gary H. Hutt, 21, and Carl Parsons, 19. The victim had been in their car.

The defense claimed that Mrs. Anthony willingly entered the men's car, did not resist when they picked her up, and appeared to be intoxicated. Counsel said the men did not intend or try to kill her.

LEGAL NOTICE
ORDINANCE NO. 600517-23
INTRODUCED BY: Kenneth Davis, Mayor
BEING AN ORDINANCE TO PROVIDE FOR THE ISSUANCE OF BONDS OF THE CITY OF SALEM TO PAY THE COST OF IMPROVING THE FIRST ALLEY EAST OF SOUTH LINCOLN AVENUE BETWEEN EAST STATE STREET AND EAST PERSHING STREET, HIGHLAND AVENUE FROM THE EXISTING BRICK PAVEMENT NORTH TO THE SOUTH LINE OF EAST ELEVENTH STREET, PENN AVENUE FROM COLUMBIA STREET TO WALNUT STREET, AND DECLARING AN EMERGENCY.

WHEREAS, the Council of the City of Salem has heretofore by resolution declared the necessity of making certain improvements in designated streets and alleys and in order to finance such construction has heretofore authorized and issued notes in anticipation of the issuance of bonds and the levy and collection of special assessments which notes have matured or are about to fall due; and

WHEREAS, the Auditor, as fiscal officer, has certified to the maximum maturity of the bonds proposed to be issued and as to the estimated life of the improvements so constructed, which maximum maturity may not exceed the ten-year period provided for collection of said assessments.

NOW THEREFORE, BE IT ORDAINED BY THE COUNCIL OF THE CITY OF SALEM, OHIO:

SECTION I.
That it is deemed necessary to issue bonds of the City of Salem in the principal sum of Twenty-three Thousand Dollars ($23,000.00) to pay the cost of improving the first alley East of South Lincoln Avenue between East State Street and East Pershing Street, Highland Avenue from the existing brick pavement North to the South line of East Eleventh Street, Penn Avenue from East Pershing Street to Columbia Street, and Penn Avenue from Columbia Street to Walnut Street. Said amount to include a fifty per cent portion of Fifteen Hundred and Fifty Dollars and Eighty Cents ($1,550.80) by paving, grading, curbing and draining together with the necessary appurtenances thereto. Said streets and alleys being improved between the termini and in the manner specified in the award thereof. No. 350405-11, 570702-43, 560807-52, 560807-53, respectively.

SECTION II.
Said bonds shall be in the principal sum of Twenty-three Thousand and No. 1 which shall be issued in the denomination of Three Thousand Dollars each excepting bond No. 1 which shall be issued in the denomination of Two Thousand Dollars, shall be numbered from 1 to 8, both inclusive, and shall be dated June 1, 1960. Said bonds shall bear interest at the rate of 3 1/4% per annum payable semi-annually on the first days of June and December of each year beginning December 1, 1960 until the principal sum is paid provided, however, that if said bonds are sold bearing a different rate of interest than hereinbefore specified, then the same bonds shall bear such rate of interest as may be provided in the resolution of Council approving the award thereof. Said bonds shall mature as follows: Three Thousand Dollars on December 1, in each of the years from 1961 to 1965, inclusive, except Two Thousand Dollars on December 1, 1961.

Said maturities are hereby determined to be in substantially equal installments.

SECTION III.
That said bonds shall express upon their face the purpose for which they are issued; that they are issued in pursuance of this ordinance and shall be signed by the Mayor and Auditor, and sealed with the corporate seal of said City. The interest coupons attached to said bonds shall bear the facsimile signature of the Auditor. Interest and principal of said bonds shall be payable at the office of the City Auditor, City Hall, Salem, Ohio.

SECTION IV.
That for the purpose of providing necessary funds to pay the interest on the foregoing issue of bonds, promptly when and as the same fall due and also to provide a fund sufficient to pay the principal of said bonds at maturity, there shall be and is hereby levied on all the taxable property in said City of Salem in addition to all other taxes, a direct tax annually during the period said bonds are to run in an amount sufficient to provide funds to pay the interest on said bonds and when the same falls due and also to provide a fund for the discharge of the principal of said serial bonds at maturity, which tax shall not be less than the interest and sinking fund tax required by Section II, of Article XII, of the Constitution. Provided, however, that in each year when the assessments anticipated by said bonds are available for the payment of such bonds and are appropriated for such purpose, the amount of such tax shall be reduced by the amount of the assessments so appropriated.

Said tax shall be and is hereby ordered, computed, certified, levied and extended upon the tax duplicate and collected by the same officers, in the same manner and at the same time that taxes for general purposes for each of said years are certified, extended and collected. Said tax shall be placed before and in preference to all other items and for the full amount thereof. The funds derived from said tax levies hereby required shall be placed in a separate and distinct fund, which together with all interest collected on the same, shall be irrevocably pledged for the payment of the interest and principal of said bonds when and as the same fall due.

SECTION V.
That all installments of said assessments and all portions thereof, together with interest thereon, shall be applied to the payment of said bonds and interest as the same shall become due and to no other purpose whatsoever.

SECTION VI.
It is hereby determined that all acts, conditions and things necessary to be done precedent to and in aid of the issuing of said bonds in order to make them legal, valid and binding obligations of the City have been performed in regular and due form as required by law that the full faith, credit and revenue of said City shall be and are hereby irrevocably pledged for the prompt payment of the principal and interest thereof at maturity and that no limitation of indebtedness or taxation either statutory or constitutional will be exceeded in issuing said bonds.

SECTION VII.
That said bonds shall be first offered at par and accrued interest to the officer in charge of the Bond Retirement Fund in her official capacity, and if said officer refuses to take any or all of said bonds, then said bonds not so taken shall be advertised for public sale and sold in the manner provided by law. The proceeds from the sale of said bonds, except the premium and accrued capitalized interest thereof, shall be used for the purpose for which said bonds are issued and for no other purpose, the premium and accrued interest received from such sale shall be transferred to the Bond Retirement Fund to be applied in the payment of the principal and interest of said bonds in the manner provided by law.

SECTION VIII.
That the Clerk of Council is hereby authorized and directed to certify a copy of this ordinance to the Auditor of Columbiana County, Ohio, according to law.

SECTION IX.
This ordinance is hereby declared to be an emergency measure necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health and safety, and for the further reason that the prompt issuance of the bonds herein provided for is necessary to preserve the credit of the City by retiring the outstanding notes issued in anticipation thereof and therefore, this ordinance shall be in full force and effect from and immediately after its passage.
